DETAILED ACTION

Double Patenting

1. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

2. Claims 1-45 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-14 of U.S. Patent No. 6,701,912. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other.

3. Claims 1-45 are provisionally rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 14-31 of copending Application No. 10/794,978. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other.

This is a provisional obviousness-type double patenting rejection because the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

6. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

7. Claims 1-45 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Lazaroff (6,786,140) in view of Jenkins (5,558,140). Lazaroff discloses substantially all of the claimed limitations including, among other things, a bench top cooking apparatus having means for securing a heat source 33,37 generally within a grill body element (see at least fig. 1), a support member 46,47,48 thermally spacing the grill body element from a supporting work surface, thereby minimizing a heating of the work surface during the grilling use, and a plurality of utensils 101 for securing and holding a food item within the path of upwardly rising grilling heat, wherein the support member further comprises an outer wall 47 portion projecting upwardly from the support surface to an outer rim portion and defining therein an inner volume having an receiving surface 33,37, and at least one raised portion 44,45 on the support member projecting upwardly from the receiving surface effective to define at least one receptacle therein, and wherein the at least one receptacle shaped to receive at least one of the plurality of utensils, at least one food product, at least one food product container (see at least fig. 1), whereby the at least one receptacle minimizes a shifting of the one relative to the support member during the grilling use and a transport thereby improving a safety of the bench top grill kit. Lazaroff does not specifically recite a grill member. Jenkins teaches a bench-top cooking device including both a burner for a cooking utensil, as well as conversion providing a grill. This type of arrangement has a clear benefit of providing the user versatility. Accordingly, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to incorporate the conversion and grill taught by Jenkins into the invention disclosed by Lazaroff, so as to provide for greater versatility and use of the device.

Prior Art

8. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. These references disclose cooking devices with many of the claimed components. Nevertheless, in order to avoid overburdening the applicant with redundant rejections, these references were not applied.
